

NATIONAL CITY CO. OFFICERS WROTE OFF THEIR DEBT

Prosecutor at Mitchell Trial
Shows Minutes on Cancelling of $1,709,999 Obligation.

DETAILS GIVEN OF MANAGEMENT FUND

Witness Says He Removed Pages from Record Showing Salary Advances to Executives.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 1.—Federal Prosecutor George Z. Medals read to a jury today the minutes of a directors' meeting of the National City Co. of last Dec. 20, when a resolution was passed writing off at $1 a self-admitted obligation of $1,709,999 owed the company by 10 of its officers.

The $1,709,999 represented a part of $1,860,000 paid out of management fund profits to 11 of the officers on July 1, 1929, and included, according to documentary evidence presented earlier today, a payment of $66,666.66 to Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the company and of the National City Bank, on trial charged with income tax evasion.

Later in December, 1929, directors at a meeting over which Mitchell presided, had passed a resolution declaring that the $1,860,000 had been "over-payments" and that the officers owed the money to the company and would pay it back out of future management fund profits.

$160,000 Debt Canceled.

At the end of 1931, however, the board of directors, according to minutes read to the jury by Medals this afternoon, decided that J. E. Ripley, one of the officers, should be awarded for "special services" he had rendered the company, so they adopted a resolution freeing him from any obligation ever to pay back the $160,000 he received from the management fund on July 1, 1929.

The balance, they decided at last December's meeting, according to their minutes, was to be "carried on the books of the company at $1 without, however, releasing the participants (officers who had participated in the management fund) from their obligations to the company."

Today's testimony by Frank J. Maguire, assistant secretary and treasurer of the company, dealt with the management fund paid.

The Government charges that Mitchell was at fault in not listing on his 1929 return $66,666.66 he received that year from the fund. His defense is that the money was not income but merely an advance to be paid back later.

Today the Government questioned Maguire about another payment in 1930 from part of the management fund of $66,666.66 which had not been distributed.

Splitting $140,000 Beside.

He told of a resolution passed at a directors' meeting of the company in 1930 in which it was arranged to divide the $140,938.88 residue from the 1929 management fund.

The resolution spoke of the officers' salaries as low, the largest, except for Mitchell's, being $20,000, and added that most of the officers, because of past profits from management funds, had established a style of living in excess of their salaries.

The resolution continued to reflect that these officers, because of their style of living, had "commitments over and above their salaries." It noted that they asked for a division of the 1929 surplus "to which they feel they are morally entitled." The resolution was passed. Mitchell, as chairman, did not vote. His share was $60,515.83.

Management Fund.

Maguire, who had testified earlier in the trial, was recalled as a Government witness.

He produced the minutes of a meeting of the directors of the National City Co. of Jan. 25, 1927.

The resolution set aside 8 per cent of the net monthly earnings of some securities and 20 per cent of the net monthly earnings of others, to be placed in the management fund, which at the end of each year was to be divided among "operating and executive officers of presidential and vice-presidential ranks."

Starting $66,666 Payment.

A check for Mitchell from the National City Company for $66,666.66 was placed in evidence.

Medals, continuing to trace the transaction involving the $66,666.66 next read to the jury a resolution which had been identified by Maguire as having been passed by the directors of the National City Co. Dec. 20, 1929.

It directed that whatever each officer had received from the distribution of July 1, be debited against him on the books of the company, "to be repaid out of any distribution of shares of the company which may be entitled to receive in any year subsequent to 1929."

Receipt for "Over-Payment." Medals introduced in evidence an undated receipt signed by Mitchell. "Received, July 1, 1929, from the National City Co., $66,666.66 which represented an over-payment to me of my share in the 1929 management fund, to be repaid by me out of future distribution from the management fund before I become an

ROOSEVELT ASKS FOR CONTROL OF OIL PRODUCTION

Sends Word to House That He Wants Clause Added to Pending Industry Measure.

ICKES SUBMITS PRESIDENT'S PLAN

Executive Would Have Power to Regulate Petroleum Business Instead of Secretary of the Interior.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Roosevelt, through Secretary of Interior Ickes, today told the House Ways and Means Committee he hoped an amendment to include oil regulation would be attached to the industrial control bill now pending in the Senate.

As the House committee began hearings on the Marland oil control bill, Ickes testified:

"Just before I left my office this morning Col. McIntyre (one of the President's secretaries) called me and I am authorized to say on behalf of the President that he hopes very much that there will be attached to the national industrial recovery bill the following section on conservation of petroleum to read:

"Section 10. For the oil industry, in addition to the powers granted to the President concerning rates of fair competition, agreements and leases, he is authorized to prescribe regulations to supplement state conservation legislation relating to production of petroleum to allocate equitably the national market demand for petroleum and the products thereof, among the oil-producing states and between domestic production and imports and to prohibit the transportation in interstate commerce of petroleum and the products thereof produced or withdrawn from storage in violation of any state or Federal law or the regulations prescribed thereunder."

This amendment is intended to replace a 40-page bill, drafted by the Department of Interior, which Senator Capper (Rep., Kansas), had intended to offer in the Senate as an amendment to the industrial recovery bill.

The experts accompanying the delegation are Henry Chaikler, foreign tariff expert of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce; Frank J. Delaney, expert on production of wheat and marketing; Walter R. Gardner, research assistant to the Federal Reserve Board; George H. Lewis, financial and former translator for the Department of Justice; Harry C. Hopkins, State Department tariff expert; Benjamin E. Wallace, tariff expert, and James Wilson, union labor leader of Cincinnati.

Victor Selden Clark, economist, will accompany former Gov. Cox, vice-chairman, when he sails Friday on the Olympic. Rexford Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and Edmund E. Day, economist and member of the Preparatory Commission, will sail later.

Indications are that the United States will oppose stabilization of the dollar at too high a level, lest the rise in domestic prices be checked.

McReynolds and Pittman expect to fight for international remonetization of silver, and Secretary Hull for lowered trade barriers.

Ickes said that unless these restrictions are removed permanent stabilization of exchanges is impossible.

He told of a resolution passed at a directors' meeting of Dec. 30?" Medals asked. "I'm quite sure it was," Maguire said.

Took Papers from Note Book.

A black, loose-leaf note book in which Maguire kept a record of transactions between officers of the National City Co. and the company itself was placed in evidence.

Six pages on which Maguire said he had recorded salary advances to officers, "beginning in 1930 or 1931," were missing from the book.

Ickes removed those pages before I turned the book over to the Federal Prosecutor," Maguire testified.

The book was recorded the fact that on July 1, 1929, there was advanced to Charles E. Mitchell, $66,666.66.

Maguire said this and others just like it were given him, unsigned about the middle of December and that he filled in the amounts the officers had received and sent them back to be signed.

ROOSEVELT URGES ANNAPOLIS MEN TO CULTIVATE PEOPLE

In Graduation Address, He Stresses Importance of Friendships in All Walks of Life.

By the Associated Press.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 1.—Graduates of the Naval Academy were told today by President Roosevelt to cultivate friendship with their fellow men.

The President came here to hand out commissions to the new class of officers for the navy at graduation exercises.

Almost half of the class was returned to civilian life. These men were given diplomas signifying their graduation.

The President's address follows:

"I am not going to talk to you of the many heroic examples that have been set by those who in past years have received their commissions, such as—

"I am not going to give you a lecture on the uniqueness of your position as the first line of the nation's defense against aggression.

Things Already Learned.

"I am not going to dilate on the duties and responsibilities that fall upon you in war and in peace.

"These things you have learned from your own studies and from your instructors who have participated in them.

"You should, and I assume you do, know more about them than I can know and am fully appreciative of their importance, and the grave consequences with which the manner of your performance of these duties is involved.

"Knowledge of these things, I must assume, you have learned in the course of your term at the academy. Otherwise you would not be here awaiting the diplomas which certify your fitness to be naval officers of the United States.

The Elements of Success.

"You have an advantage over most other young men, not alone in having survived the tests requisite to your receiving your diplomas, but especially in that you have learned discipline, responsibility, industry and loyalty—the very elements upon which, in every walk of life, every worthwhile success is founded.

"Others on the threshold of active life must demonstrate their reliability; yours, as related to his experiences of an extensive tour of Europe, Russia, Asia Minor, Palestine and Egypt. Siple, whose home is in Erie, Pa., has been invited to accompany Byrd on his next expedition, which is expected to start next fall.

"Pride of Profession."

"A columnist complained the other day that I had overestimated the importance of understanding of and acquaintance with the point of view of the general well-being of what might be called the average citizen, and he intimated that a man could be highly successful in any profession without studying that point of view.

"Nevertheless, when you make a close examination of any profession, you will find very few successful men, or for that matter women who do not take into consideration the effect of their individual efforts on humanity as a whole.

Esprit de corps, pride of profession, is as delightful and imperative an element in the making of a good officer as it is in the making of a good professional or business man, but when it is carried to the point of assuming that only the holder of an Annapolis commission or diploma or the possessor of a college degree, or valid member of the aristocracy of life, it becomes a hindrance instead of a help to your service, to the Government and to your fellow citizens.

Urge Cultivating People.

"So I ask you to avoid an exclusive relationship to your own clan—to your clan of the navy or to some other special Government service or to the clan of your profession in civil life.

"Remember to cultivate the friendship of people, not alone in your own class or profession—but the average run of folks—the same folks you would have known and liked had you qualified with had you not been chosen to enter and to graduate from a highly specialized institution of higher education.

"This I ask of you, not only for your own sakes, but for your country's sake.

"You who become today officers of the United States Navy are not set apart as a clique with different interests and different ideas from those of the rest of the country.

"Those of you who are to enter civil life are, in the same way, in no sense a clique.

You Represent Them All.

"You have, and should rightly have, pride in graduation from our splendid, historical Naval Academy. You inherit the tradition of honor and of efficiency. You inherit as well the tradition of service to the people of the United States.

"You will, I am confident, think of those people not as an abstract, theoretical mass, but as 120 millions of men and women, children in 48 states—on sea coast, continent and among the mountains; in cities, in village and on farm; rich people, people of moderate means, poor people; people employed and people out of jobs.

"You represent them all. They have given you a glorious opportunity. Make good. Keep the faith. Good luck to you in the days to come!"

"Disgraced" Himself Before.

Departing from his prepared speech, Roosevelt disclosed to the cheering assemblage in Dahlgren Hall that "I love the United States more now than any other branch of the Government."

The President, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, had a broad smile as he handed over the neatly rolled commissions to the white-clad graduates. He recalled on his last visit here on a similar occasion as Assistant Secretary he had "disgraced" himself by "going sound asleep during the principal address."

As the President concluded his short talk, a cheer leader took the platform and the midshipmen roared a "navy" for him.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland and Secretary of the Navy Swanson stood beside the President with a

TREASURY ADVISES BANKS TO BOLSTER CAPITAL BASES

Tells Directors of National Depositories It Might Be Well to Reduce or Defer Dividends.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Steps to strengthen the capital structure of the national banks of the country have been taken by the Treasury. It has suggested that banks defer or reduce dividend payments to stockholders to accomplish this end.

In a letter sent to all of the directors of the more than 6000 national banks which have reopened since the banking holiday, F. G. Awall, Acting Comptroller of the Currency, called attention to the situation of the banks of the country and told the directors that he thought no chance to strengthen the capital structure should be overlooked.

Awall, in his circular letter, said he realized that the question of dividends was entirely in the hands of the directors after they complied with the banking laws governing such payments. He pointed out, however, that it would be to the benefit of individual banks to follow his suggestion, which he said was made in the hope of putting the banks in an impregnable position in the future.

The letter was merely a suggestion, and was not mandatory. It left to the boards of the individual banks the decision as to whether the suggestion would be adopted.

Awall said in his letter: "If you have not already done so, it is requested that you give special consideration at this time not only to the net earnings, but also to the capital and surplus accounts of your institution, salaries, expenses of operation and to the advisability of reducing or deferring dividend payments to your stockholders for the time being, all in the interest of further strengthening the surplus or reserve accounts of your institution."

Since the letter was sent out, J. F. T. O'Connor has been appointed Comptroller of the Currency and has succeeded Awall as head of the office.

MRS. ROOSEVELT ANNOUNCES CAMP FOR IDLE WOMEN

Experiment for Relief of Unemployed Will Be Conducted at Bear Mountain, N. Y.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Establishment at Bear Mountain, N. Y., of the first woman's camp for unemployed through use of Federal funds was announced at the White House today by Secretary of Labor Perkins jointly with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In an effort already "honeycombed with 'girls' camps" to use Mrs. Roosevelt's own phrase, this camp, formed at her suggestion, is ex- pected to test out the problem of whether camp life similar to the reforestation system for men is suitable for jobless, unattached women.

Only unmarried, unattached women without jobs are being recruited for the camps, Miss Perkins and Mrs. Roosevelt emphasized. No women are being taken from their homes.

Suggested by Mrs. Roosevelt.

A statement was given out saying:

"High up on the western bank of the Hudson in Bear Mountain Park the temporary relief administration of the State of New York is con- ducting an important experiment with Federal funds furnished by Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Emergency Administrator.

"It is the establishment, at the suggestion of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of an experimental camp for young unmarried women, now out of work through no fault of their own.

The purpose of the camp is to provide helpful employment and useful instruction amid wholesome surroundings, for needy young women, who are unable to support themselves without any resources of their own.

"The camp which will be in operation by the end of this week will accommodate 300 women at the nominal cost of $5 per person per week. The vanguard now arriving will be rapidly augmented in number. By the end of the month it is expected the full quota will be reached. Then the plan is to establish a second camp nearby with accommodations for 150 women.

To Consider Other Camps.

"In addition to the routine duties of camp life, vocational work and occupational training, including dressmaking, embroidery, weaving and other handicraft will occupy the time of the women during working hours.

"Other camps will be considered in other states if the local state relief organizations make appropriate plans and applications to the Federal Emergency Administrator."

Miss Perkins said the New York camps were not to be on a wage basis, but that such arrangement might eventually be worked out if someone could be found "that would not be in competition with regular labor."

The recruits already in the Bear Mountain camp, she said, were engaged in building the camp, cleaning off the grounds, cooking, fishing and making their own garments.

PRIVATE LINE'S FIRST TOW

New Orleans.

Several hundred tons of St. Louis products—paint, roofing, jelly, soap, glassware, tinware, paper, chemicals—will be carried on the first southbound St. Louis-New Orleans tow of the Mississippi Valley Barge Line Co.

The first upstream tow, which arrived at the concern's $40,000 Rutger Street dock Monday, carried more than 1000 tons of sugar, coffee and canned goods. The downstream tow, to depart at noon tomorrow, is due in New Orleans next Thursday. Barges of the privately owned line will operate on a regular schedule, six days downstream and 12 days up, with departures on Friday from both St. Louis and New Orleans.

USES PLANE TO SPOT AND RECOVER STOLEN YACHT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Russell Garrett, 38, $8000 yacht, the K-22885, had been stolen from the New Brunswick (N. J.) Yacht Club moorings, so he decided yesterday to take a look around.

He hired an airplane and in an hour he spotted the missing craft 40 miles away in Jamaica Bay. He flew back to Brooklyn, to pick up some policemen and an amphibian plane. Ten minutes later Garrett walked the bridge of his craft as George Morehouse, 33 years old, and Philip Cimatti, 30, were taken to a police station.

SUES HUEY LONG FOR $250,000

ALIENATION SUIT AGAINST
E. A. KOENEMAN AND WIFE

Gordon B. Taylor, 460 Ivanhoe place, Webster Groves, filed suit for $250,000 at Clayton today alleging his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Koeneman, alienated the affections of his wife.

He is president of an electrical company of that name at 1420 Pine street and lives at 430 East Lockwood avenue, Webster Groves.

Taylor's suit related that he and Della H. Koeneman were married in Jerseyville, Ill., Nov. 5, 1930, and lived together until the following September. Her parents then took Mrs. Taylor to Florida, according to Taylor's attorney, Edwin Rader, and when she returned, the man, May, she refused to go back to her husband.

Taylor is a civil engineer in the employ of the Federal Government. He and his wife have one child, Gordon B. Taylor Jr.

U.S. RELIEF FOR STATES PUT ON 1 TO 3 BASIS

Federal Administrator Announces Communities Must Pay Two-Thirds.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Federal relief administration expects the states to make substantial appropriations for relief within their borders in the opinion that they should get along with Federal assistance equalling one-third of their own expenditures.

This statement was made today by Harry L. Hopkins, the Federal relief administrator, in announcing gifts on the one-to-three basis to Pennsylvania, Michigan and Georgia. The new estimates came from the recently created $500,000,000 fund. They were $4,547,913 to Pennsylvania, $3,915,307 to Michigan and $3,700 to Georgia.

The allotments for the second quarter based on expenditures of public moneys during April, May and June will be due in July, but there will be no allotments between July and October.

"If we keep on financing on the basis of percentages and amounts equal to the amounts secured from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation the $500,000,000 will not last long," he said. "The states must do their share. It was the intent of Congress that they shall pay a reasonable share of the cost of relief and that is all we shall pay."

The $500,000,000 fund is divided into two parts—$250,000,000 to be allotted on the one-to-three basis, and $250,000,000 to be distributed after Oct. 1 on the basis of need.

Hopkins said that before giving away any of the second fund conferences would be held to determine the needs within the states.

By the Associated Press.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 1.—A Criminal Court jury yesterday acquitted Mrs. Florence Drane, formerly of Louisville, Ky., of second degree murder in connection with the death of her husband last Jan. 21.

Drane was shot to death and Mrs. Drane wounded after a party when they had entertained friends at their home. The State charged Mrs. Drane shot her husband and then turned the weapon on herself. Taking the witness stand, she declared the shots were fired during a struggle for a pistol with which she said her husband intended to shoot her.

Defense witnesses testified Drane reportedly had mistreated his wife and had done so at the time of the shooting. The jury deliberated only 15 minutes.

WOMAN IS FREED BY JURY IN KILLING OF HUSBAND

She Says He Was Shot in Struggle For Pistol When He Tried to Shoot Her.

By the Associated Press.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 1.—A Criminal Court jury yesterday acquitted Mrs. Florence Drane, formerly of Louisville, Ky., of second degree murder in connection with the death of her husband last Jan. 21.

Drane was shot to death and Mrs. Drane wounded after a party when they had entertained friends at their home. The State charged Mrs. Drane shot her husband and then turned the weapon on herself. Taking the witness stand, she declared the shots were fired during a struggle for a pistol with which she said her husband intended to shoot her.

Defense witnesses testified Drane repeatedly had mistreated Drane and had done so at the time of the shooting. The jury deliberated only 15 minutes.

INTEREST AT GOLD RATE PAID ON FRENCH BONDS

Morgan & Co. Disbursing $1.18 in Depreciated U. S. Currency for Every $1 Due.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Semi-annual interest on both the French Government 7 per cent gold bonds and the 7 1/2 per cent loans, due today, will be paid by United States currency in the dollar equivalent of French francs at par of exchange. It was announced by J. P. Morgan & Co., the paying agent.

Since the dollar is depreciated about 18 per cent in terms of French francs, this means that France is paying coupons on these two bonds at rates equivalent to $1.15 for every $1 of interest due. The loans were issued originally in amounts of $100,000 each.

On the basis of the quotations of 4.65 cents for francs, each $37.50 coupon on the 7 1/2 per cent loan will be paid at $44.50 while each $35 coupon on the 7 per cent issues would be paid in paper dollars, in amount of $41.54.

Since France is still on the gold standard, payment of the coupons in the equivalent of gold costs France no additional money. However, if France had decided to take advantage of the present monetary situation, and meet interest payments in depreciated dollars the result would have been a substantial saving.

The present action of the French Government was foreshadowed on May 1 when coupons due on the bonds of three French cities of Bordeaux, Lyons and Marseilles, were paid in gold equivalent.

Interest due on United States Government bonds will be paid in paper dollars, in accord with the announcement of the administration made recently.

URGES U. S. BUY IDLE LAND, RESELL IT ON LONG TERMS

Representative May Offers Bill in House for Persons Without Living Income.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Bureau of Home Economics of the Agriculture Department would buy idle, productive land and resell it on long-time terms to persons without living income, under a bill introduced yesterday by Representative May (Dem.), Kentucky.

The land would be obtained at not exceeding $10 an acre, and divided into plots of not less than 20 acres each for sale to prospective home owners at net above $10 an acre. The Treasury would issue "Home Owners' Notes" to finance the bureau's operations.

An individual could receive not more than $1500, apportioned one-third each for building and improvements; land, implements and the like, and for living expenses. He would have 20 years in which to pay, with no payments required the first two years.

STIMSON HEADS BOARD UNDER LOCARNO PACTS

Commission Is to Consider Disputes Between Germany and France.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, June 1.—Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State in President Hoover's Cabinet, has accepted the chairmanship of the Permanent Commission of Disputes created under the Locarno agreements.

The invitation to head the board was extended several weeks ago, and his acceptance was announced last night.

In 1926 the Locarno pact set up the commission to consider disputes between Germany and France, and between Germany and Belgium. If either disputant rejects the commission's recommendations, the final decision rests with the League of Nations Council.

Germany, France, England and Italy, under the Locarno treaties, agreed to preserve the sanctity of the Franco-German frontier.

The commission of five is to meet only when a specific case is submitted for conciliation. Strictly legal controversies would not come before the committee, but would be referred to the World Court.

Terminal Worker Hit by Train.

Gus Rosenberg, a laborer for the Terminal Railroad, was struck by an outbound Wabash train in Union Station yards at noon yesterday, suffering a crushed right leg. He is 65 years old and resides at 3664A Shaw boulevard.

Fechner appeared in executive session on a resolution by Carey for an investigation of the buying of the kits, which Fechner ordered at $1.40 each.

Major-General John L. Dewitt, Quartermaster General of the army, who also appeared, told the committee the army could duplicate the kits at 55 cents each, and had been doing similar toilet kits for 49 cents each.

Carey's resolution was approved by the committee after its provisions for a general inquiry into purchases for the reforestation program had been eliminated.

Fechner was represented by Carey and other Senators as having told the committee that Howe suggested to him to buy the toilet kits from the Bevier Corporation of New York.

"Fechner told the committee that Howe called him up and that he had a letter from Howe, which was approved by the President, suggesting that he buy the kits from the Bevier Corporation," Carey said.

Gen. Dewitt, Carey said, presented a copy of a letter from Budget Director Douglas to Fechner, dated May 16, authorizing the purchase, which was approved by the President.

A letter authorizing shipment of 200,000 of the kits was sent to the Bevier Corporation on May 15.

Fechner told the committee, members said, that there had been "a lot of complaints about the kits that were being furnished boys in the reforestation camps and that some of the shaving cream was sour."

Members said Gen. Dewitt testified that the army had been buying and supplying "much better stuff."

They added that Dewitt told the committee conservation officials had instructed him not to buy any more kits for them, but that he had replied he could not act on their authority.

Committee members said Fechner testified the kits were the only things he had ordered bought, but remarked he did not like the clothing being supplied by the army. They quoted him as saying "I did not buy any because I have been too busy."

Fechner said he had not tried to compare prices in buying, or bargain with the Bevier Corporation.

WHEAT-CROP IN MISSOURI REPORTED GOOD TO EXCELLENT

Corn Making Progress. Rainfall Hinders Work in Many Localities.

The Missouri wheat crop is in good to excellent condition except that it is damaged by weeds in the lowlands, the weekly weather and crop bulletin of the Weather Bureau said today. Early corn has made good progress and about 25 per cent of the corn land remains to be planted.

"With temperature and sunshine averaging nearly normal, the week was rather favorable for crop growth," the report said, "but the rainfall was again adverse in many localities, with showers on several days, which seriously hindered field work. Weeds and grass flourished and were getting a strong hold in many fields."

There is much replanting of corn.

In some sections only 50 to 75 per cent has been planted. Wheat needs sunshine and is heading generally. Barley oats are heading generally and the condition varies from fair to excellent.

Afalfa was cut where the weather permitted. The growth of the crop is fine, but some damage is caused by lodging. Cotton made fair progress. Much of it was planted late. Some is yet to be planted.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
WOMAN DIES WHILE WALKING

HOME FROM CITY HOSPITAL

Heart Disease Said to Have Been Aggravated by Fright Over Dog Bite.

Mrs. Henry Strattmann, 60 years old, died suddenly at 9 o'clock last night while walking home from City Hospital, where a wound caused by the bite of a dog had been cauterized.

She was carried into a house at 1218 St. Ange avenue by her husband, and was returned to the hospital. Physicians said death apparently had been caused by heart disease, a condition aggravated by fright. She had been ill-health.

Mrs. Strattmann, who lived at 220 South Forest Avenue, was bitten on the hip late yesterday afternoon while shielding her pet poodle from a dog owned by a Negro. She was walking through an alley back of the city morgue when the Negro's dog started "fighting with the poodle." She picked up her pet and the other dog leaped at her.

The most St. Louisans probably thought May was unusually cool, but the fact was, Government Forecaster Nunn remarked today, that the last two weeks were much warmer than usual and the whole month averaged .2 of a degree above the May "normal" of 67 degrees.

People were likely to get false impressions about weather when they were, so to speak, right in the middle of it, he added, shuffling a convincing stack of data. Maybe they thought May was cool because it was dark and emphatically wet.
There was no mistake about that;
for it rained, a little or a lot, on 23 of the 31 days, and the sun shone on only 227 of the 284 hours normal for May.

For this reason the next week, with the meteorologist's summer beginning today, was a critical one for the farmers, he said. A little more sun and a little less rain might give them an opportunity to get in delayed crops. But if rains resumed, the delay would begin to be serious. About 25 per cent of corn is required to be planted in one section of the State half or three-fourths of it remained unplanted, while grass and weeds took possession.

No Sign of a Drought.

The scientist, on the basis of the record, could concede a few cold days. Low was 45 degrees before dawn May 2. But it did not take an old-timer to remember a cooler May 12, 1926. The temperature dropped to a freezing May 2, 1929, with four inches of snow. And on the twentieth of last month the mercury rose to 93, a record for that date, although the May record was 94 degrees on the 26th, in 1926.

Drought? Dr. Nunn chuckled.
There was nothing like a drought now. High river stages showed that, convincingly for the first time in nearly thirty years, that the Missouri had been .2 inch below normal until May 11. In the last 20 days excessive rains made that up, so that the total on the first day of summer—for the meteorologist—stood 4.45 inches above normal.

May rainfall, 8.59 inches, was third highest since the record began in 1871. The record was 10.9
in 1929, and second was 9.12 in 1896. Normal is 6.48 inches.
Last month had 18 days with measurable rainfall and six with a trace of rain, as compared with 18 days of measurable rainfall in May of 1873 and 1878. In 14 hours on the twelfth and thirteenth of last month rainfall totalled 2.14 inches.
Four days had more than one inch of rain—May 12, 13, 24 and 25.

State Escapes Bad Storms.

The first, seventh, twentieth and twentieth of May were the only days of damage on May 1, when wind velocity reached 50 miles an hour from the South, and May 20, when it was 44 miles an hour from the North. Thunderstorms occurred on 14 days—or nights—twice normal frequency. And, Dr. Nunn said, they appeared to come in series,
so that one would just get his wind-down open after a storm and go back to sleep when another came along to rout him out.

One gratifying thing about the report, Dr. Nunn commented, was that May was the "tornado" month and Missouri had passed through it almost unscathed. Several times general storm areas had passed southward through the Middle West, but each time the expected tornadoes had occurred farther south.

It's always pretty safe to be north of the center of such a general area, he explained. When a great storm area begins its march, with widely varying temperatures in various sections, tornados were likely to occur, but they were most likely in the southeast corner of the area.

AIRSHIPS DEFENDED BY COL. LINDBERGH

He Also Criticises Restricting Continuation of Command.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today came to the defense of lighter-than-air ships as a vital phase in the early development of aviation in testimony before a joint Congressional committee investigating the Akron disaster.

Lindbergh said he felt it would be "unwise" to stop development in this field now.

Asked his opinion of the cause of the Akron disaster, the Colonel criticized the naval policy of restricting continuation of command. "My personal opinion," he said earnestly, resting both hands on the table, "is that it has been, and is, a mistake to discourage specialization in the service."

NEW AIR TERMINAL IN USE

The new $182,000 terminal building at Lambert-St. Louis Field was put into service today when Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., occupied four offices on the second floor of the building and space in the consolidated ticket office in the lobby.

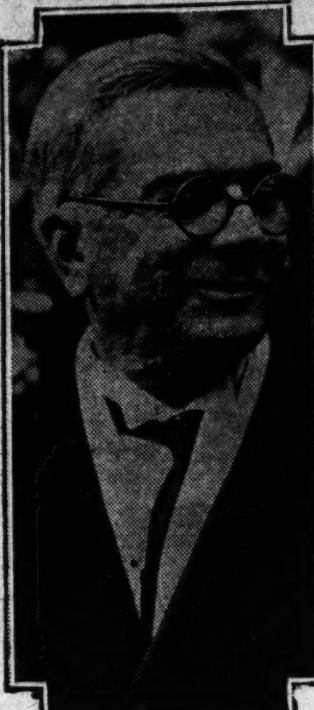

Other airlines are expected to move in soon. Transcontinental & Western Air formerly rented office space from the Robertson Airplane Service Co.

PROGRESS ON BOULDER DAM

BOULDER CITY, Nev., June 1.—Contractors yesterday reached the half-way point in the construction of the $75,000,000 Boulder Dam.

Excavation work for the project was completed. Actual pouring of concrete for the 700-foot high dam will begin within two weeks.

TRROUBLED DAYS FOR PRESIDENT OF CUBA

WORMS ATTACK CROPS IN NEARBY COUNTIES

Two Varieties Noted—Farmers Use Poison to Check Ravages.

A pest thought to be the army worm has attacked crops in several Missouri and Illinois counties, farm agents said today, following publication in yesterday's Post-Dispatch of its appearance on a St. Louis County truck farm west of Creve Coeur.

Federal Entomologist Satterthwaite consulted the agents today with the purpose of inspecting farms where the worms were reported. He was inclined to believe some of them might be cutworms, of a sort which outnumbered army worms four to one on the St. Louis County farm where the pest was first reported.

The cutworms, he said, were larger and apparently even more destructive than army worms, which can destroy a wheat field overnight. The cutworms have a row of white spots along the back. Where they were present, he said, a double dose of poison was required.

Poisonous bait for army worms might contain half a pound of Paris green to 50 pounds of bran, he explained, but the poison should be increased to a full pound where cutworms are suspected. The mixture should be scattered, he said, until all the bran was green and then moistened until it clung together in the hand, but scattered when tossed out. It should be broadcast over the place where the worms were feeding.

The St. Louis County Farm Bureau had reports today that worms had appeared on farms in the Missouri bottoms in the western part of the county. Destruction had not been large, and farmers using poisonous bait are thought to have the invasion under control.

St. Charles County Agricultural Adviser R. A. Langenbach said worms had been found in many wheat and alfalfa fields from Highway No. 40 as far west as St. Peters, down to the Missouri River bottoms. He said that damage so far had been negligible, since farmers were prepared for the worms.

On the East Side, several St. Clair County farmers reported damage. B. W. Tillman, County Farm Agent, said the pests had appeared in various sections. They had fed so far, without much destruction, in hay-fields. Hay is being mowed now, with the result that Tillman expected them to move into wheat, gardens and other crops which they might damage severely.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH CULBERTSON SYSTEM PLAYERS LEAD IN BRIDGE CONTEST

Edwin J. Speyer and Partner Drop Into Second Place In Tournament.

C. Drummond Jones and L. D. Goldman moved into the lead again yesterday afternoon in the three-cornered contract bridge tournament to test the virtues of three different systems of bidding.

Jones and Goldman, playing the Culbertson system, won six of the nine rubbers in yesterday's session at the Park Plaza Hotel for a total plus score of 6800 points for the afternoon, and brought their total plus score for the 60 rubbers already played to 7300.

Edwin J. Speyer and Lucille Platt, playing a system of Speyer's devising, dropped out of the lead yesterday and are running second with a plus score of 1900. Earl Ochs and Fred Ingalls, playing the Sims system, are third with a score of minus 9200.

The next match will begin at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Gatesworth Hotel. The matches are open to the public.

ST. CLAIR CAMPAIGN AGAINST GAMBLING

Sheriff, Police Heads of East St. Louis and Belleville Agree to Co-Operate.

A campaign against crime and gambling in St. Clair County was announced today, following a meeting at Belleville last night between Sheriff Munie, Acting Chief of Police James Murphy of East St. Louis, and Chief of Police Henry Blizing of Belleville, at which they agreed to forget past differences and co-operate.

Munie said the agreement would combine the police and deputy forces of 120 men into a drive to arrest all police characters, and to stop "hoodlum tactics" on the part of gangsters who have been making unprovoked attacks on citizens.

All dice games, weather ticket lotteries, card games for money, policy games and other forms of gambling will be stopped, Sheriff Munie said. A drive will be made against bookmakers; slot machines "must come down," he added.

"Only by combining the law-enforcing units of the county, Munie said, can we rid the territory of the gambler and hoodlum element.

The Sheriff did not discuss the cause of differences between the police departments and Sheriff's office in the past, but it was generally known that Munie and Chief of Police James Leahy of East St. Louis, who recently died, were unfriendly. Leahy had stated publicly that he resented the Sheriff's raids in East St. Louis, directed at the "Valley" vice resorts, gambling places and hangouts for criminals.

Disagreements also arose over political differences. Chief Blizing, a Republican, a Republi city administration controlling the East St. Louis Police Department, and the Sheriff's office being Democratic.

The opinion was written by James L. Hornbostel, an Assistant Attorney-General, in reply to a re-

RULING ON NEPOTISM LAW
Road Overseers Not Permitted to Appoint Relatives

JEFFERSON CITY, June 1.—Appointment of relatives by road overseers to work under them in violation of the State anti-nepotism laws, the Attorney-General's office ruled in an opinion today.

The opinion was written by

James L. Hornbostel, an Assistant

Attorney-General, in reply to a request for a ruling from Walter G.

Stithell, Prosecuting Attorney of

Clinton County. Hornbostel held that Richard Fry, a Marion County road overseer had forfeited his right to hold office by appointment of his son to work under him.

The Assistant Attorney-General

also ruled that county courts may remove or that quo warranto proceedings may be used to oust road overseers who violate the anti-nepotism act.

Union taxi drivers employed by American Taxicabs, Inc., operating went on strike March 14 when they demanded a raise.

Frank Murphy, manager of Re-

Taxi cabs, told the Mayor that business conditions made a cut in the guarantees necessary. In addition cific amount.

son Says "Injustices"

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Numerous protests at the cuts in veterans' benefits by the national economy act brought Democratic leaders to the defense of the President in the Senate yesterday with an appeal to opponents to aid him in correcting injustices in regulations.

Despite demands for repeal of the act or at least limitations on reductions, Democrats in charge of the $453,000,000 independent offices bill—which cuts almost in half current appropriations for veterans—predicted its passage today with perhaps a few liberalizing amendments.

One such amendment was approved—that of Senator Black (Dem.), Alabama, boosting the hospital fund by $1,000,000 for treatment of disabled former service men who cannot trace their injuries to service.

Senator Byrnes (Dem.), South Carolina, in charge of the bill, reiterated that the President had ordered revisions upward in the combat compensations and was selecting a committee to visit hospitals and report any injustices

He said there was a chance for adopting amendments by Senator Cutting (Rep.), New Mexico, limiting cuts for service-connected injuries to 25 per cent and by Senator Dill (Dem.), Washington, making the same limit on reductions in pensions of Spanish war veterans over 62, but said that under the procedure a two-thirds vote would be required.

In view of a defense of the President late in the day, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, assailed Senator Dickinson (Rep.), Iowa, for calling Roosevelt responsible for the "injustices" complained of, and Senator Robins-(Rep.), Ind., for asserting the economy bill was sent to Congress by the President with a "false label" to maintain the credit of the Government.

"Before changes have gone into effect," the Arkansas senator said, "Senators find peculiar gratification in denouncing the President for fearlessness in discharging his duty, in attempt to perform the functions of his office consistently with the laws enacted by the Congress."

"The President is working now to do his best sincerely and conscientiously to give effect to the will of the Congress, and instead of wasting time in denouncing him, who did not have the courage to perform the legislative function necessary to bring the expenses of the Government within the revenue ought to stand by and give the President support, and assist him in working out the defects in the rules and regulations which have been adopted."

The majority leader added that when the economy bill was sent to the credit of the Government was "seriously threatened" and Congress was continuing to "pile up additional expenditures."

Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho, suggested Congress recall the President to make the cuts, but Byrnes of South Carolina, the Democrat in charge, said this would not bring suits and that most, if not all, injustices, could be remedied by administrative regulation.

Smiling as he informed Senator Borah that he had voted for the economy bill, which they resembled "mourners at a funeral meeting," Borah said:
"It seems to me that we authored those things to be done. We were told there would be savings $400,000,000 and we ought to know how severely would be necessary." "If we are not willing to release power, after we have seen working, it is a second confidence. We do not want to take responsibility."

REORGANIZATION
OF GOVERNMENT
OFF FOR A WHILE

In Face of Disagreement Among Advisers and Strong Opposition, Roosevelt Abandons Plan

FEW MINOR CHANGES
TO BE MADE SOON

But General Program Is Held for Further Study, as Have Been All Similar Proposals:

By CHARLES G. BOSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—So many difficulties have been encountered by the President's advisers on his proposed wholesale reorganization of the Government departments that the scheme, except for minor details, has been abandoned for the present.

Announcement to this effect was made at the White House yesterday, with the additional information that next week the President would send to Congress six to eight executive orders covering relatively small changes in the departmental set-up. It was said that any changes decided upon would be made gradually, Director of the Budget Douglas having reached the conclusion, after weeks of study, that it would be inadvisable to attempt a sweeping reconstruction at one time.

The President is said to have become convinced that further study is required. He holds, according to the White House announcement, that the potential economies through reorganization are not so important as the hoped-for gains in efficiency. All that means is that the plan drawn up by the President's advisers, like all previous plans of the President, has run into strong opposition and that further efforts will be made to reconcile conflicting views. From sources other than the White House, it was learned that various heads of departments have objected vigorously to the tentative draft of the reorganization proposals, and that opposition to different features has been voiced by influential Congressmen.

Senators' Experience Stories.—Many Senators told of letters they had received from veterans protesting the cuts announced to become effective July 1.

Senator Copeland (Dem., New York), said a veteran who "almost died" in his office had been reduced from $30 to $8 a month, while Senator Reed (Rep., Pennsylvania), said he knew of a man who lost one leg in the Argonne and suffered other injuries, being cut from $10 to $40.

Opposing recall of the authority given the President, Byrnes said the cuts announced for July 1 would not go into effect, that they were being revised upward at the direction of the President. In this he was supported by the President who was appointing a committee to visit hospitals throughout the country and report any injustices. This committee, he added, would be instructed to see to it that all available beds were utilized.

He said the President also had ordered a review of presumptive allowances to prevent any veteran being removed from service-connected injury lists "by a mere caption."

"It Would Not Be Desirable to Make Any Statement," He Tells Parliament.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 1.—The House of Commons again today to get from Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain a statement of the British policy in regard to the $75,950,000 war debt installment due the United States June 15.

Frederick S. Cocks, a Labor member, asked whether the Government had reached any agreement with the U.S. to make payment without additional study.

Chamberlain replied: "I would not care to say for me to make any statement in regard to this matter at present."

"Why?" asked several members of the House.

Cocks insisted on some sort of declaration, asking: "Will the Chancellor take into consideration that many American authorities would like to see us cut the gordian knot in this matter by repudiating our liability?"

Chamberlain replied, "will be taken into consideration."

POLITICAL ASPECT OF ARMISTICE IN CHINA UNSETTLED

It Is Thought, However,
That Representatives of Nationalists and Japan
Soon Will Confer.

By the Associated Press.
TIENTSIN, China, June 1.—Japan's five-month campaign in North China having been ended with a truce, political aspects of the situation remained for consideration.

It is assumed that Dr. Hwang Fu-Chang, National Government representative in North China, and Akira Ariyoshi, Japanese Minister to China, will soon confer.

The armistice came after nearly two years of warfare in Manchuria, Jehol and in North China, during which, it is estimated, China lost more than 50,000 men and the Japanese 10,000.

Japanese forces agree to leave the district south of the Great Wall providing the Chinese army does not advance beyond a line extending from Yenking (northwest of Peiping) and north of the wall to the sea, and running through Changping, Kaoliung, Shunyi, Tungchow, Shangho, Paot, Linching-chien, Ningbo and Lu-tung.

It is thought that Chinese forces maintain a buffer zone in the evacuated area after the Japanese withdraw to the wall, which forms the southern boundary of Jehol.

The fact that the armistice makes no political conditions and contains no reference to a buffer state between China proper and the Japanese-occupied Manchuria caused both relief and surprise to the Chinese, who apparently had expected much harsher conditions.

Observers think many important matters not mentioned in the truce were covered in informal understandings between Tokio and Nanking.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

NEW PRESIDENT OF WOMEN VOTERS

THE first socially important wedding of June will take place this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, when Miss Lois Hiesen Hemingway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Linn Hemingway, 7711 Maryland avenue, will become the bride of Arnold Ransom White, son of Burrell Gordon White of New York. The wedding will take place at the church of St. Michael and St. George, the Rev. Dr. Karl Morgan Block officiating. A reception for 50 young friends of the bride and bridegroom will follow at the Hemingway home.

Miss Hemingway will be given in marriage by her father. She will be attended by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hemingway as maid of honor, and bridesmaids will be: Mrs. Alice Balsam of New York, sister of Mr. White; Mrs. Francis Coates of Little Rock, Ark., a cousin of the bride; Miss Miriam Hemingway, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Burrell White Jr. of Phoenix, Ariz., sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Burrell White Jr. is another of the bridegroom's best men. The groomsmen will be: Francis Coates of Little Rock, Ark.; Aldo Balsam of New York; John Lamb Gillis and Wilson Linn Hemingway Jr.

The bridal party will stand before an altar adorned with clusters of Easter lilies and lighted by seven branched candelabra filled with ivory tapers. The chance of the ivy will be broken with white roses and the rose wreath will be covered with green and yellow and blue spring flowers. Tall candelabra candlesticks will be arranged at either side of the altar.

Miss Hemingway will be married in her mother's wedding gown, fashioned after the mode of 28 years ago. The gown is an elaborate model of deep ivory satin brocade, designed with great puffed sleeves and a high, yoke of rose point lace. Soft folds of the satin fit the shoulder to the waist and the natural waistline is defined by a wide circle of rose point lace ending in two long streamers. The skirt, containing seven yards of brocade, is fitted at the waist by a shirred yoke and flares into a long train. The bridal veil of rose point lace and is held in place at the back by a wreath of orange blossoms. The veil carries a bouquet of lilies of the valley, copied from one carried by her mother at her wedding.

The maid of honor will wear a gown of buttercup yellow mousse de soie over matching taffeta. The bridesmaids will be in Eleanor blue mousse de soie over taffeta of the same shade. The frocks are made with high round necks and short puffed sleeves, corresponding with the old-fashioned style. The sleeves have ruffles, fraying outlined with narrow ruching. The waistlines are high and the long skirts sweep the floor. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids will wear small hats of natural straw, modeled after those fashionable in the mannequin. The hats are trimmed in chouchettes of the same color. The hats are prominent. The veil will carry round bouquets of yellow daisies and blue larkspur tied with ribbons to match their gowns.

A 10 per cent increase in a brokerage house which had cut salaries 60 per cent.

A 5 per cent increase in North Carolina textile mills which pay their workers $4 per week. The increase amounted to 20 cents per week, per person.

Green shows an insidious danger in the situation. A business house which had cut 30 per cent and restores 10 per cent places competing firms which may never have cut salaries at all in an unfavorable position before the public, even though the "un-raised" pay in the latter plant may be much higher than the "increased" pay in the former.

Green feels that New England textile mills which pay $12 salaries were probably hurt by the stories of the wage "increase" in the North Carolina mills which pay $4.

This ballyhoo contains another danger. Casting a false rosy glow over the situation, it may lead to slackening of real effort toward revival of business, eventually landing deeper in the mud than ever.

Green adds that there should be called merely "restoration of wages" where they are restoration of wages, and nothing more. This policy should be followed, and the extent of original pay cuts should always be cited. Bigwigs who ballyhoo fake prosperity items as being as much real good as the man who pastes a "Wasn't That Depression Awful?" sticker on the back of his car. It makes the depression twice as "awful" after the sweet music fades away.

Misleading Pay "Increases"

From the Philadelphia Record.

RESIDENT GREEN of the American Federation of Labor does a splendid job in exposing the bunk behind many recent sensational "pay increase" stories. Doubtless, a few firms really raised their wages after the President's request. But most merely increased their productivity work. Green cites the following cases:

A 10 per cent pay "increase" in one factory—which had cut wages 40 per cent previously.

A 10 per cent increase in a brokerage house which had cut salaries 60 per cent.

A 5 per cent increase in North Carolina textile mills which pay their workers $4 per week. The increase amounted to 20 cents per week, per person.

Green shows an insidious danger in the situation. ### INCOME TAX AND SALES TAX

From Edwin R. A. Bellman of Columbia University in Political Science Quarterly.

THE income tax and general sales tax always arises in times of stringency. It seems too easy a way of escape from the difficulties of a given situation. Not to speak of the earlier episodes, we may refer to the eighteenth century movement for the general excise, which played a considerable role in England and a still more significant role on the Continent. In both places, however, the situation was finally adjusted without resort to what gradually came to be considered as inequitable and undesirable forms of taxation.

The advocates of the sales tax base their argument largely on the ground that there ought to be a wider distribution of the tax burden, and that the small man ought to bear his relative share. Conceding for a moment the strength of the general principle, it may be asked whether this objective of a wider distribution cannot be more adequately and equitably attained by a lowering of the general taxation rather than an increase in the rates on small incomes so as to approximate the figures that we find in the British and Continental income taxes.

It is not to be denied that there are serious and possibly convincing arguments against any such change, taken by itself. But if the principle is adopted that the small man must pay more, is it not far better to do it in this way than by the adoption of a sales tax, which is admittedly regressive and not consonant, as is the income tax, with the principle of equity to pay?

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE OPENS

$25,000 in funds sought to carry on work.

The Salvation Army's campaign for $25,000, with which to carry on its other relief activities for the balance of the year, was opened yesterday.

A Special Gifts Committee, headed by Isaac A. Hedges, has been soliciting large subscriptions for several weeks. The Army participated in the Community Fund campaign to character building agencies in which less than half of the $600,000 goal was pledged.

Among the social affairs for graduation week at Mary Institute was a luncheon given by Mrs. W. H. Horner, 5842 Julian avenue, in honor of Miss Carol Mansfield. The following seniors were guests: Miss Dorothy Dobson, Miss Vivian Jane Meyer, Miss Betty Anne Noland, Miss Mary Ellen Chappell, Miss Peggy Marquis, Miss Blanche Fischel, Miss Mary McFate and Miss Ruth Huffman.

Miss Beulah Diamond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Diamond, accompanied by her sister, Miss Rose Diamond, sailed June 2 for a two month trip in Europe.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES
2 TO 9 POINTS LOW

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 1.—An early day in cotton under realising promoted by easily Liverpool rules, and a fall was followed by rallies on a renewal of the market. The market was evidently encouraged by the action in stock market October contracts.

about 9 points above yesterday's close quotation, but the buying tapered off steadily at net declines of 2 to 3 points.

Lord Derby's horse, Hyperion, at odds of 6 to 1, won the 150th English Derby.

The old English family of Lord Derby, the ancestor, the fourteenth Earl of Derby, who did the British Empire a good turn when he helped to make the brilliant young Jew, Disraeli, Prime Minister of England.

New Jersey's "nature colony," practising "nature healing" believes in nudism (going naked), although it does not practice that; their members hope "to live for centuries" not merely for 10 years. Their rules include "no meat, no sex, no romance." Under such conditions, why live for centuries? Giant turtles of the Galapagos Islands, with similar rules, live hundreds of years. But what of it?

Most extraordinary thing in Washington's investigation is the fact that Mr. Pecora, who drags out unpleasant truths, has not been impressed.

Senator Glass made a rather feeble effort to prevent publicity of the famous "refined list," and relatives that somebody threatened his life. In the old, and happier days, there would have been somebody, somewhere in the Government, to protect the ewe lambs of Wall Street from ruthless cross-examination.

More Big Hands
CONTINUING the discussion of slam developments when the opening no-trump bidder has three aces, and his partner makes a jump sign-off, let us give the opener a four primary trick hand, so that he can go on with the slam try even if the responder starts to sign off.

Opener's hand

Sp. A K
R. A 10 9
Cl. K 10 9
Q 8 7 6
and responder has only
Sp. K Q
R. 10 9
Cl. A 8
Q 7 6

So what the bidding goes—one no-trump, three hearts, four no-trumps, five hearts by responder as a sign-off. Now opener must go six no-trumps, overriding the sign-off because of his own reserve half primary trick and the sound character of his hand. His tenace holdings for the opening lead make the no-trump slam preferable to slam in hearts. If his diamonds were A 10 x and his clubs K Q x, six hearts would be the wiser bid—positively so in rubber play, and with a fine partner one should also bid it in match-point play, looking to him to take the declaration to six no-trumps if his hand could stand it.

A Grand Slam.
Take the same opening hand, but give the responder

Sp. A K
R. A 10 9
Cl. K 10 9
Q 8 7 6
and the bidding goes—one no-trump, three hearts, four no-trumps, five hearts, the opening bidder needs to know only one thing—what is his partner's spade holding as regards its primary value? The three tricks promised by that player consist of the ace of clubs, K-Q of hearts and (a) K-Q or spades and nothing in diamonds or (b) kings of both these two suits. With all the missing kings and queens responder would have bid five no-trumps instead of five hearts. If partner has K Q x or K Q x in spades, the diamonds do not matter, as there will be 13 total tricks if the spade break. Bid four tricks with the club finesse for 13 if spades do not break, or the jack does not fall on three leads. The spade break is a chance I would wish to take in view of opener's even distribution.

A Constructive Bid.
If the opener held

Q 8 7 6

Bid four tricks with the club finesse for 13 if spades do not break, or the jack does not fall on three leads. The spade break is a chance I would wish to take in view of opener's even distribution.

A Constructive Bid.

Over five hearts opener should bid five spades, with the intention of (a) bidding seven no-trumps if partner raises spades, or (b) bidding six hearts if the reply is five no-trumps, a semi-sign-off saying only three primary, but some slight intermediate; honor re-enforced somewhere; or (c) passing six hearts, which is the partner's significant signal.

The responding hand should grasp the urgency of this pie and obediently raise spades on king-queen small, using the reasoning which we explained in recent articles as applying to the opening bidder when a bid of this kind was made by the responding hand who had taken control of the slam development. If responding hand held only

Sp. K Q x
R. A 10 9
Cl. A 8
Q 7 6

the hand would thus be signed off at six hearts, or probably six no-trumps in a tournament. If responder's hand were

Sp. K Q x
R. A 10 9
Cl. A 8
Q 7 6

he would bid five no-trumps over five spades. Over partner's six hearts or six no-trumps, he would be justified in bidding seven hearts, as he now knows that the spade suit will have no loser if hearts are trumps, and the grand slam can be at worst dependent on a finesse in one of the minor suits, with a likelihood that the opening lead coming up to his hand will settle the matter then and there.

Tomorrow—Some Aspects of Rebidding.

Creamed Eggs and Cheese
Four pieces hot buttered toast
Three tablespoons butter
Four tablespoons flour
Two cups milk
One-fourth teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon paprika
One-fourth teaspoon celery salt
One-half cup cheese
Three hard boiled eggs, sliced

Melt butter and add the flour. When blended add milk, cook until creamy and firm. Season constantly. Add seasonings and cheese and stir until melted. Add eggs, cook two minutes. Pour over toast, garnish with parsley. Serve at once.

Let's EXPLORE Your MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

See Whether His Opinions Agree With Your Own

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Science puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1.—Yes, vastly greater and more lasting. Romance is nature's magic wand. However, pecking youth on the blushing heart of Eden is—"but it only points the way to this Eden. It does not plant its trees or water its verdure or ripen its fruits. Permanent married love is a creative spiritual achievement—a product of united intelligence, will and conscience. This does not mean that "love's young dream" must be shattered, but that its passion and perfume must only be the dynamic stimulus for a mutual life plan which shall be the outcome of inner growth, nourished by common expert-ences, hopes, failures, successes, sufferings, pleasures, and ideals. These are the stuff life itself is made of and you can only make permanent love out of the things from which life itself is made.

2.—Not at all; it is merely to make the narrator seem more important to the listener. There is always a frightful temptation to inflate one's ego and "stretch the blanket," in relating the most common occurrences. When you exaggerate do not fool yourself that you are doing it in the other person's interest; it is solely in order to impress upon him what a great fellow you are.

3.—No. Dr. M. R. Trabue, University of Minnesota, recently visited factories in Minneapolis reputed to have the finest mechanics in the city. He gave intelligence tests to a large number of these extra fine mechanics and found they rated about average in general intelligence—some being considerably below average. Of course, many highly intellectual people also have high mechanical intelligence but one does not seem to have much connection with the other.

BUT THE FIRST THING HE MUST LEARN IS THIS: MODERN EFFICIENCY IS A VERY DIFFERENT PROPOSITION THAN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY ARTICLE.

THE PROGRAM WHICH WAS EFFICIENT FOR YOUR FATHER OR YOUR MOTHER IN 1898 WOULD BE A TOTAL FLOP FOR YOU IN 1933.

For human life, in these last 40 years, has speeded up and tangled up more than in the preceding 40; and unless you can adapt yourself to the new speed and the new complexity, you're done for.

And he doesn't mean "doing everything yourself." Nor does he mean doing everything, or even anything, perfectly.

It means picking the thing you can or must do, learning to do that thing smoothly, quickly—doing it with enthusiasm and determination—yet not giving to it any more time or thought or energy than it warrants in the scheme of things.

How do these efficient people, whom you so envy, manage? That's how.

THEY DO ONE OR MANY THINGS WELL.

BUT THEY DO NOT DO THAT ONE THING SO WELL THAT IT WRECKS ALL OTHER VALUES—AND SPOILS THE REST OF THEIR LIVES.

HAVING CHOSEN ONE OR MORE THINGS TO DO WELL, THEY DELIBERATELY CHOOSE TO LEAVE MANY THINGS UNDONE.

FOR A HUMAN BEING CAN MAKE A MIRACLE OF HIMSELF AS SURELY BY TRYING TO DO TOO MANY THINGS AS BY DOING NOTHING AT ALL, AND IT TAKES AS MUCH STRENGTH OF CHARACTER TO WISELY LIMIT YOUR PROGRAM YOUR INTERESTS AND YOUR AMBITION, AS IT DOES TO WISELY EXPAND IT.

So, if you want to be efficient in 1933—

DON'T BITE OFF MORE THAN YOU CAN CHEW—

KNOW WHAT YOU DO CHEW WELL,

AND, ABOVE ALL, KNOW WHEN TO STOP CHEWING!

Charges Against Attorneys for Paul A. Richards in Kidnapping Trial Are Made Public—Joseph Hartman Also Accused.

LEGED PROMISE BY LAWYERS CITED

Edward L. Anna on Panel at First Hearing of Case Got Money in Four Installments, Grand Jury Charge Says.

bribe of $80 is alleged to have been paid by Verne R. C. Lacy and John W. Hartman, lawyers, to corrupt Edward L. Anna, juror in the trial of Paul A. Richards on a kidnapping charge, in the indictment filed recently against the two lawyers, and made public in detail today, when the grand jury made its report to Circuit Judge Bader.

The amount of the alleged bribe was not stated previously. The indictment states that payment was in four installments.

Richards, a lawyer, was first in February, 1932, on the charge of kidnapping for ransom in the Alexander Berg case. The jury agreed, and in the following month, at his second trial, he was acted. The State and city bar associations have petitioned for Richards' disbarment, and the State Supreme Court now has the disbarment case under consideration.

Indictment in Two Counts.

It was Richards' attorney in two trials, and Hartman was an associate of Lacy in law practice.

Indictment, in two counts,

charges Lacy and Hartman with attempting to corrupt a juror, and with corrupting a juror.

It states that their promise to a was to "take care" of him if he would give Richards the beneficial doubts in the testimony, that in pursuance of this they paid him the $80

in installments.

The language of the indictment,

stated that after the panel was selected, from which 12 were to be chosen, Lacy and Hartman committed the offense

by offering to give said

Edward L. Anna a gift or take care of him, by offering to take care of Anna if he would give the defendant, Paul A. Richards, out of all doubts, if chosen on the trial jury, and by saying he said Anna in substance and part:

Paul Richards is a good fellow.

He is the case on its merits and him the benefit of all doubts, you will be taken care of. We take care of you.'

"Offer to Give Money."

The said Lacy and Hartman, indictment continues, "were ready to give to the said Anna money, or gratuity, in amount known to these grand juries,

the felonious intent to bias

the mind of said Anna, and to the side of the defendant, Richards, than to the side of the defendant, Richards.

Anna was duly selected, and on

May 24, 1932, the 12 jurors, including Anna, reported that they could agree, and a mistrial was ordered and the jury discharged.

Throughout the deliberations of the petit jury, Anna, thereto influenced, inclined and corrupted by said gift or gratuity offered promised him by Lacy and Hartman, was more favorable to the side of the defendant, Richards, than to the side of the defendant, Richards.

Payment of $80 Alleged.

Thereafter, in or after March, in the City of St. Louis, the Lacy and Hartman, pursuant to the said offer and promise to care of said Anna if he would give Richards the benefit of all doubts, as a gift or gratuity, in return for the said corporation, in four several installments, the sum of $80, lawful money of the United States.

Anna, who was Juror No. 1 in Richards' first trial, now lives in St. Louis and was brought back here witness before the grand jury.

Circuit Attorney has not made known whether Anna remained in St. Louis.

The grand jury, in its report, tells

Bader that it has compiled
